

Erin Doyle, J.D., has over 35 years of experience in business and fiscal management, database and systems design, office administration, and the practice of law. After starting her career at General Motors and IBM, Erin left the corporate world to earn a law degree to have a direct, positive social impact on women, the elderly, and members of disadvantaged communities. She has worked as staff attorney with a legal services agency, business manager of a low-income affordable rental community, and office manager of a large volunteer organization. As founder and owner of Data Solutions Plus, Inc., Erin provides business consultation and database design services to non-profit organizations, governmental social service agencies, for-profit businesses, and volunteer organizations.
